DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

PORTSMOUTH PROOF:

Warren Street.

Mrs. Robert C. Anderson, of 12 Warren street, says: "I had a great trouble with my kidneys, until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. I became interested in an advertisement I saw in a newspaper about them I went to Philbrick's pharmacy on Congress street and procured a box. At the time I had distressing dizziness, lightness in my head, lameness in the small of my back and pain in that region that almost prostrated me. When on my feet I had that tired and depressed feeling which made it agony to move about. A slight urinary weakness accompanied this that was very annoying. When I began Doan's Kidney Pills I could see that they were doing me good. I began to grow better at once and after the treatment I was perfectly free from every inconvenience. I can consistently recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for backache and kidney complaint. They are the best medicine I ever used."

Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50 cents.

JOHN T. PERRY DEAD.

Veteran Journalist and Author Passes Away Suddenly at His Home in Exeter.

Exeter, Nov. 30.—John T. Perry, one of Exeter's most prominent citizens, died with startling suddenness yesterday morning. About 6 he was heard moving about his room. He did not come down to breakfast and no attempt was made to wake him until about 11, when he was found dead in his bed.

He was born in Exeter, April 5, 1832, youngest of the five children of Dr. William and Abigail Gilman. Perry's father was a remarkable man, a distinguished physician, and surgeon, and at his death Jan. 11, 1887, in his 55th year, was Harvard's senior alumnus. His mother was a daughter of Col. Nathaniel Gilman, younger brother of Gen. John Taylor and Senator Nicholas Gilman.

Mr. Perry entered Phillips-Exeter in 1849 and in 1852 as graduated from Harvard with Phi Beta Kappa rank. He then studied law under the late Gen. Gilman Marston and was admitted to the New Hampshire bar in April, 1856. He never practiced, however, his tastes inclining to literary work.

In 1857 he joined the staff of the New Hampshire Statesman from which he soon went to the Massachusetts Union. Early in 1858 he became an editor of the Cincinnati Gazette, of which he soon became a proprietor. His connection with the Gazette lasted until its consolidation with the Commercial in 1887, when he sold his interest and returned to Exeter, buying as his home, the quaint old house once occupied by his great-grandfather, Nicholas Gilman, state treasurer during the Revolution.

Since 1888 Mr. Perry was the editorial writer of the Exeter News-Letter, and in 1888 and 1896 was managing editor of the New Hampshire Journal and its successor, the Record, organs of New Hampshire Congressmen. He had contributed to leading reviews. He was the author of "Sixteen Savoyers or One," a book published at Cincinnati in 1879, to prove that the gospel is not Brahminic, and in 1890 he published a valuable history of the First church of Exeter. An essay at Harvard won him a Bowdoin prize. He was an omnivorous reader, had a most retentive memory and was a veritable encyclopedia of facts and dates.

He had long been chairman of the public library trustees, and the library owes much to his scholarly tastes. He was a member of the state historical society. In March, 1885, he was elected a trustee of the academy, and at his resignation in April, 1899, was president of the board. He was a member of the First church.

In 1862 Mr. Perry was married to Miss Sarah Chandler of Concord, a direct descendant of John Wheelwright, founder of Exeter. She died in March the same year as her husband June 11, 1897.

He had no children. He leaves one brother, Dr. William G. Perry of Exeter. He was an uncle of Sarah Orne Jewett. The funeral is appointed to take place Monday at 3 p. m. at the home.

COL. MEADE'S DEFENCE.

Officers Testify That He Was Sober March 18 and April 30—Size of Drinks That Were Taken.

New York, Nov. 30.—At the Brooklyn navy yard Friday, the judge advocate closed the case for the government against Col. Robert L. Meade of the marine corps at the trial by court martial, and the defence at once began the submission of testimony.

Lieuts. Beaumont, Hooker, Fryer, Dykman, Young and Sullivan of the marine corps all testified that Col. Meade was sober on March 18 and April 30, last.

The testimony of Col. Meade before the court of inquiry was then read, and it provided an amusing debate between Col. Meade and Maj. Lauchner as to the propriety of a host observing the size of drinks taken by a guest. The drinks in question were those taken at Meade's quarters by Lauchner on June 18 last.

FROM THE ISTHMUS.

Colon, Colombia, Nov. 30.—The capture of the washups with a large detachment of their respective forces, are now taking over the government of Colon from the Liberals, and will hand over the same, later in the day, to Gen. Alban, commander of the Colombian government forces.

Everything is quiet and orderly here.

Some insignificant fighting occurred at Bahia Thursday morning, where the Liberals made a last stand. After the conference here Thursday Gen. Alban returned to Panama under a strong American escort.

Gen. Francisco Castro was wounded in the engagement at Buena Vista.

UNCLE TERRY A SUCCESS.

Had the theatre-going public been acquainted with the merits of "Uncle Terry" as a play, Music hall would have been crowded on Friday evening. It proved one of the most enjoyable treats of the season and a return date would attract an immense audience. James R. Waite in the title role was a true impersonator and he was given a warm reception. LUCY BELLE ASHORE.

Crew Brought Ashore By the Gay Head Life Savers From Off Thatcher's Island.

Gloucester, Nov. 30.—The little fishing schooner M. Madeline, Capt. Roland, Brewer, arrived from Ipswich bay Thursday evening, bringing with her the news of the loss of a good-sized coasting schooner. The crew of the M. Madeline say that they sighted the wreck at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon and a close examination showed her to be a two-masted coasting vessel of about 140 tons ashore on the rocks east-northeast of Thatcher's, practically on the eastern end of the island.

It is stated from Rockport that the wrecked craft is the schooner Lucy Belle of Ellsworth, Me., Capt. E. E. Martin, stone laden from a Maine port for Boston and that she struck on the southwest point of Thatcher's island at 5:30 o'clock during the high wind of Wednesday afternoon. A large hole was made in the bottom of the craft and she began to sink at once. Signal lights were burned which were quickly seen by one of the shore parties of the Gay Head life saving station and answered.

Capt. Bearse and the life saving crew quickly put out to the wreck and took off Capt. Martin and crew, bringing them to the station, where they were made comfortable and kept over night. They succeeded in saving their effects. The craft left Portland on Wednesday morning, and, owing to the condition of the weather, was hugging the shore more closely than usual. The craft was uninsured, but there was insurance on the cargo. The schooner Lucy Belle was 91.12 tons gross, 85.57 tons net, and was built at Chatham Falls, Me., in 1888.
